THREAD MILL LEAGUE.

Crowds Witness Saturday's Games—
Protested Games to Be Played Over on Labor Day.

Interest in the games in the American thread mill baseball league is increasing. Saturday large crowds were in attendance at both Horseshoe park and Windham field, where two games were played. Some of the nines were slightly weakened by the absence of a number of their players by reason of the fact that the departure of Company L, First Infantry, C. N. G. to the "front" took those players along to participate in the war games.

The games were more closely contested in most instances than on any Saturday since the league opened up its season.

The shipping and packing room defeated the No. 4 mill crowd by a score of 8-2. The printing room defeated No. 3 mill nine by the score of 9-2. The dyehouse nine defeated No. 2 mill nine by the score of 7-5, and the winding room defeated the office by the score of 7-4.

The dyehouse nine has not lost a game so far in the series and its supporters are confident that it can trim any nine in the league and are already laying wagers that it will win the pennant. The other nines are equally sure that the dyehouse will yet run against a snag and sustain defeat at the hands of the pulp spool department.

The players are looking forward with much interest to the games that are to be played on Labor Day in connection with the field day sports. The protested game of a week ago Saturday will be played over at that time and many are of the opinion that the pulp spool shop crowd will be a winner—that is, if Lefty Killouray is in his real form and the umpire hands out a square deal.

Sues to Recover Commission.

Samuel Quint of New Haven has sued Baxter Stankiewicz and John Kaski of this city for $250 and money in the hands of John Markowski, who has been garnished. The action is returnable in the common pleas court at New Haven on the first Tuesday in September. The suit has been instituted to recover a commission for the sale of the saloon. Quint's claim is that the defendants told him that they would give him a commission of $250 if he would get someone to purchase their saloon at 27 Jackson street. He induced John Markowski of Middletown to come to Willimantic on three occasions and finally prevailed upon him to buy the saloon. At that time the plaintiff asked for his commission, but the defendants refused to give it to him, claiming that as they had purchased liquor of him he ought to consider them as his friends and not take the $250 from them for obtaining someone to buy their place. Attorney P. J. Danahy has been retained by Mr. Quint to represent him in the case.

UTICA N. Y. MAN
Calls Saxo Salve "a Wonderful Remedy for Eczema."

I am writing this with the hope that it may induce others who are suffering from skin affections as I was. I suffered from eczema and was treated by several physicians, but none seemed to relieve me from that terrible itching. I saw an advertisement of Saxo Salve and decided to try it. The very first application brought relief, and I cannot say too much for a remedy that has cured me from eczema—Albert F. Knapka, 303 Wageo Street, Utica, N. Y.

In all forms of skin disease Saxo Salve quickly allays the terrible itching, and its antiseptic, healing properties penetrate the skin and destroy the germs of disease.
If you have any skin trouble try Saxo Salve on your guarantee to return your money if it does not help you. Broadway Pharmacy, G. G. Engler, Norwich, Conn.

May Be Third Party.
It is said here that a petition is being quietly circulated for the names of persons who desire to cut away from the republican and democratic parties and enroll themselves on a caucus list as members of a citizens' or independent party. This report is given color by the fact that men who for years have registered with one or the other of the two older parties have asked to have their names removed from the caucus list.

Checking Up Bank Books Goes On.
There have been no developments in the Windham County Savings bank situation during the past few days. The work of checking up the books is going steadily on, but some time must pass before anything definite can be learned as to what caused the discrepancy responsible for the issuing of the restraining order. The depositors of the institution are taking the matter calmly and are not at all disturbed by the fact that the books of the bank are not liable to suffer any great loss. The Windham County National bank continues to receive daily applications from the holders of the books of the bank depositors, and is accommodating all that apply.

Woodchuck Really Climbs a Tree.
It is really true that woodchucks do sometimes climb trees. On Friday F. B. L. Danielson and Major A. D. McIntire of Putnam, in Mr. Bitgood's automobile, were on their way to Beach pond. Well up the trunk of a small tree one of the woodchucks was seen to be climbing. Investigation showed that the little animal could not come down, one of its hind legs having become entangled in the branches of the tree. A crevice formed by the winding of a wild grapevine about the tree trunk. The little fellow was hanging head down, having come to a struggle to be free, and broken by insertion in a crevice formed by the winding of a wild grapevine about the tree trunk.

It was gathered from the boys' story that they had left Norwich Saturday morning, stealing a ride on a freight train to this city. Choir Music Appreciated at Niantic.
The following extract from a letter of appreciation, written by Rev. J. William Knappenberger, pastor of the Congregational church at Niantic, where the choir of the local Congregational church sang a week ago Sunday, appeared in the calendar of the local church:

"The excellent music which you gave to us on Sunday morning was enjoyed by saint and sinner alike. The latter were even more deeply impressed than the former. One person who had not been at church for many months, said he had no idea before that music could take hold of a person so strongly. Why," he said, "it went right to my heart and made me feel that I was not alone in this world. I know enough to look out for No. 1 every time in a business transaction, but your music struck him hard and actually touched his conscience. As nothing else could have done."

The letter was written to L. O. Williams, choirmaster of the local organization.

BARRY AND TURCOTTE
Steal Ride from Norwich on a Freight and Then Steal Caps and Neckties from Stores.

Two more Norwich boys got into trouble here Saturday afternoon. They gave their names as John Barry, 16, of 15 Myrtle avenue, and Joe Turcotte, 15, of Third street. The boys were arrested on a charge of having stolen caps and neckties from the Dooty store and from the stores of A. C. L. and J. E. L.

The actions of the boys while in these places of business attracted suspicion to them and an officer was put on their trail. They were found by Special Officer Martin at the "sand pit," the same place where a trio of Norwich lads went to change their clothes just before they got into trouble with the police here a few days ago.

Officer Martin turned the boys over to Captain Murray, who held a business session with them at police headquarters. The captain had not talked with them long before he was obliged to form a poor opinion of Barry's veracity. Caught in the toils, Barry was sentenced to shift the blame on to Turcotte. The cap taken from Dooty's and the neckties taken from Luke's were found in the boys' possession.

Barry had told the police that he had been in the possession in an endeavor to conceal the fact that the goods were stolen, but this scheme was without avail.

It was gathered from the boys' story that they had left Norwich Saturday morning, stealing a ride on a freight train to this city. Barry explained his coming to this city by saying that he had a relative here who was a locomotive engineer, working in the local yards. This part of the story was verified by Captain Macdonald, but it was evident that the engineer did not expect the visit.
